

DIGI 3000

Distant Reading Literacy

Location: DigiLab, 300 Main Library

Instructor: Elliott Kuecker

Spring 2019

Wednesdays

10:10-11:00

This course will focus on how distant reading (also known as corpus analysis and macroanalysis) can be useful in the humanities, especially related to studying rhetoric and patterns in texts.

Counts toward the Undergraduate Digital Humanities Certificate

See digi.uga.edu for details. 1 credit. Open to all majors